IDENTIFYING THE METHODS

You've probably heard the famous saying, "All roads lead to Rome." In this case, it means there are many ways to reach your goals. Organizing a brainstorming session allows you to map out all the roads you can take to reach your goals!

This method allows you to:

- Encourage community members' involvement and participants' engagement with the project
- Find creative and stimulating ways to reach your goals
- Create an action plan
- Make choices in a democratic fashion

What you can do:

- Encourage the participation and involvement of those affected and interested
- Together, make a list of possible ways to reach your target or goals

Method examples:

Brainstorming session, world café, theatre forum...

- Choose together (by show of hands or paper ballots) what methods you will use. Afterwards, make sure everyone agrees on a useful project.
