1 CELEBRATING AND STARTING AGAIN!

It's important to highlight your achievements. By celebrating the project's completion, you're able to appreciate all the work that went into it and thank everyone who contributed.

This method allows you to:
- Highlight the work and efforts you have done to achieve your goals
- Thank everyone who participated and collaborated
- Formalize the project's completion or closure

Examples: Providing a new service, inaugurating a revamped park...

What you can do:
- Together, choose what you want to do: share a meal, plan a small party, go out
- Listen closely to what your team members are saying amongst themselves to prepare a surprise they will like!
- Start another project!
